Beijing June 23 news, Nike first signed a big man who is? Duncan or Kevin Garnett? But the two failed operation of the market did not benefit from Nike, Nike seems to be after that decide not to sign with the big players. However, there is one person seems to have this multinational shoe company to reconsider their market policy, Greg - Greg Oden, the top pick this year's NBA draft, the most popular people, the center player taller than 2 meters 10, it is believed that and Nike signed a perennial contract, after the news, Nike, Adidas and Puma and other companies have bickered in the shoes sponsorship Auden.

According to Associated Press reports, this contract will be officially signed on Friday, the specific amount of the contract was not disclosed. Earlier, Oden has been produced and a football card company signed a three-year no less than three million US dollars worth of contracts. Last season

Oden led the University of Oklahoma broke into the NCAA finals, he is currently accepting Portland Trail Blazers workout. The news was first used by Brian - Borg, local radio announcer revealed the lead. Auden also two hot draft pick in this year's first sponsor to determine their own shoes players, another popular candidate Kevin - Durant has not yet finally decided their sponsors, who will today for the Trail Blazers team workout.

Nike currently in the league have signed like James, Kobe Bryant and Steve Nash this super big players, but not the big shoe law of the market so that the company, based in Oregon, international companies signing post player aspect has been very cautious. But it is worth noting that this year's draft pick has signed precisely located in Portland, Oregon, Nike is perhaps precisely this contract and Auden final attribution inextricably linked, perhaps this year's draft pick It has certainly belong to the big center from the Ohio.
